The director of SEATO "Exercise Dhanarajata," Gen. Chitti Vavisthira, Chief of Staff of the Royal Thai Army, said last week the June combined military maneuvers of SEATO members nations "will assemble so sizeable a force that it will range over more than half the country."

In his first press conference, the general pointed out that the exercise has been in the planning stage (Continued on Page 8)

For SEATO Exercise

Signal Company Now in Thailand

Some 239 troops from the 125th Sig. Bn. are now in Thailand where they and other Division soldiers will participate in the joint SEATO exercise on June 11-19.

They began leaving in groups since last week and the last portion of the company departed Monday from Hickam AFB where they were flown to the Southeast Asian country aboard MATS jet planes from Travis-based 1501st Air Transport Wing.

The signal battalion men were the first of some 2000 Division troops slated for the huge exercise. The remainder will follow in the next three weeks, but no departure dates have yet been announced.

Accompanying the signal contingent were Capt. Ralph Johnson, CO of Co. B, and Lt. Col. D. Mason Smith, battalion commander.

Wives and children bid their good-byes at Schofield and a few followed the group down to Hickam to see them off.

Also on hand at the airport were Maj. Gen. Andrew J. Boyle, Division CG; Brig. Gen. Edwin A. Machen, Jr., Assistant CG; and Col. Louis G. Griffin, commanding officer of the 1502nd Air Transport Wing Hickam-based MATS.

The Division Band played for the troops as they filed to board the planes.

The rest of the troops going to Thailand will be from the 5th Inf. battle group, commanded by Col. Kenneth L. Johnson.

Accompanying the battle group will be the 11th Arty., commanded by Lt. Col. Donald B. Millar; C Troop, 4th Cav.; Co. B, 65th Engr. Bn.; plus elements from aviation, ordnance and quartermaster units.

All are expected to return to Schofield soon after the exercise ends.

The purpose of the exercise is to develop the capability of SEATO member nations for implementing existing defense plans against an aggressor.

Open House Attracts Large Crowd

A variety of equipment and weapons, and also skills of today's modern Army were viewed by a crowd of about 10,000 at the Schofield Barracks Open House Sunday.

The affair—kicking off the Army's participation in the Armed Forces Week which ends Saturday—attracted both young and old who streamed into Lightning Field from the time it opened at 10 a.m. to the closing at 5 p.m.

Mechanically-minded visitors carefully examined the engines and interiors of M-48 tanks and M-113 APC displayed by the 69th Armor.

The jungle warfare demonstration put on by the 27th Inf. Wolfhounds featuring rappelling and pathfinder operations drew much attention.

Mothers and fathers, as well as young adults, carefully inspected displays by the 25th Med. Bn. and USARHAW Surgeon's office showing various equipment and medical care soldiers receive even under adverse field conditions.

And most popular with the youngsters, especially those under 12, were the pie-eating (Continued on page 8)

President's Message

It is most fitting that we set aside this day—Armed Forces Day—to honor the men and women who serve our country in the Army, Navy, Air Force, Marine Corps and Coast Guard.

Today, our servicemen and women are serving throughout the world as guardians of the peace—many of them away from their homes, their friends and their families. They are visible evidence of our determination to meet any threat to the peace with measured strength and high resolve. They are also evidence of a harsh but inescapable truth—that the survival of freedom requires great cost and commitment, and great personal sacrifice.

It has been said by some that today's struggle for freedom—in South Viet Nam, Berlin, South Korea and other areas—is a "forgotten war." But to those who now serve, and to all of the American people, this battle is neither forgotten nor finished. Indeed, we are very much aware of our commitment, of its gravity, and of the need for continued sacrifice and dedication.

As we observe Armed Forces Day, I invite all Americans to view and learn more of our Armed Forces and their preparedness to meet the challenges which lie ahead. And as Commander-in-Chief, I urge all of my countrymen to join me in paying honor to all our servicemen and women on Armed Forces Day, 1963.

JOHN F. KENNEDY
President of the United States

Saturday Is A Holiday

Saturday (Armed Forces Day) is a holiday for all military personnel except for those participating in Armed Forces Day activities, guard, police and other essential duties, and care of the sick. It is desired that all military personnel be in uniform when appearing in public on Armed Forces Day.

2/35th Inf To March In Armed Forces Day Parade on Saturday

More than 1200 Division troops will march down Ala Moana Blvd. on Saturday morning in a massive and colorful parade climaxing the week-long Armed Forces Day activities on the island.

The parade—considered to be one of the biggest to be held on the island—will involve approximately 9000 personnel from the Army, Navy, Air Force, Marine Corps and local veterans' organizations. It will begin at 9 a.m., starting from Atkinson Drive near the Ala Moana Shopping Center and will proceed down Ala Moana Blvd. winding up at the ewa side of Ala Moana Park.

The entire 2/35th Inf., commanded by Col. James L. Erickson, will lead the Division units in the parade in which all the Division colors will be carried.

A provisional battery from DivArty and elements from the 4th Cav. will join the Cacti infantrymen in the march. The DivArty unit will display 105mm, 155mm and eight-inch howitzers and 318mm rocket and launcher. The cavalry men will have along the powerful M-48 and M-41 tanks, and an M-113 APC.

Others marching will be units from the Kaneohe's First Marine Brigade, three companies of Navy men plus contingents of WAC, WAVE, WAF and Women Marines.

Elements from the Reserve components, the National Guard, Veterans of Foreign Wars, American Legion and Disabled American Veterans will also participate.

Army Junior ROTC units from six Oahu high schools plus the Civil Air Patrol cadet wing from Maryknoll High School and Army and Air Force ROTC groups from the University of Hawaii will add a youthful note to the annual parade.

As the parade progresses, O-1 and U-6 aircraft and OH-13 helicopters from the Division's 25th Avn. Co. will stage a fly-over with other Navy, Coast Guard and Air Force planes a quarter mile off Ala Moana Park.

The parade will be only part of the varied Army activities scheduled for the day. Civilians, for example, will be able to get a first-hand look at the Division's striking mobility in a helicopter airlift demonstration following the march.

The 25th Avn. Co., employing OH-13, HU-1A, and OH-21 helicopters, will lift a 106 mm recoilless rifle along with crew members and the jeep carrier from Sand Island to the park at 11 a.m.

Other AF Day Activities Set

Other activities scheduled for Armed Forces day Saturday at Ala Moana Park and vicinity are:

- An amphibious landing demonstration by a reinforced rifle platoon from the First Marine Brigade on Magic Island off Ala Moana Park.

- A high school ROTC drill team competition at Ala Moana Park after the parade.

- Displays of the latest weapons and technical equipment of all branches of the Armed Forces.

- Open house on Navy ships in Honolulu Harbor.

- An enlisted men's ball at Maluhia Service Club at Ft. DeRussy Saturday evening.

ARMY QUEEN—S/Sgt. Rita Palafox, WAC recruiter for the state of Hawaii, will reign Saturday as Army Queen for Armed Forces Day. She is attached to the WAC Detachment at Ft. Shafter. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Agapito R. Palafox, 75 Miihau St., Kahului, Maui, she joins queens from the other services in a series of appearances during AF Week.

Two More Judges Named

Mrs. Eddie Sherman will join her "Honolulu Advertiser" columnist husband in judging the USARPAC Entertainment Contest May 29. She's the former Peggy Ryan who used to dance in movies.

Also named as a contest judge this week was University of Hawaii vocal music professor Richard Vine. He directed the chorus for Honolulu Symphony Orchestra operas this year and is active in other local music affairs.

Previously named judges are Robert Millstead, Ruta Lee and Jo Landers.

For the Love of Music

A young man who is dedicated—to music, among other things—is Sp4 Ernest Wilkerson. He's extending his tour of duty for at least a month in order to play his drums in the USARPAC Entertainment Contest.

Wilkerson, who beats his own drum in the 27th Inf. Wolfhounds Band, won first place in the instrumental soloist category during the USARHAW-Division contest.

If he wins a place in the USARPAC competition, Wilkerson plans to continue extending right through the All-Army program at Ft. Lee, Va.—which would bring to full circle Wilkerson's entertainment career.

Two years ago he went right to the top in the Army-wide contest at Ft. Belvoir, Va., although he didn't go on the tour with the '61 Army troupe. He might have had a similar chance last year if he hadn't been stationed in Thailand with the rest of the Wolfhounds.

Wilkerson has played in charity benefit performances at Hilton Hawaiian Village, Waikiki Shell and in local dance band groups.

A Casper, Wyo. native who attended Missouri Military Academy, Wilkerson has been accepted at Boston's Berkley School of Music. From there he plans to go to New York's Julliard School of Music and eventually to organize his own dance band.

He's married and lives in Waikiki.

Schofield Shutterbugs on the Prowl

An Army photographer was prowling around an alley in Wahiawa the other night and, sure enough, he was jumped.

Another cameraman ripped the seat of his pants while climbing up the steel bridge that leads into Wahiawa.

The assault—by an alley cat—and the call for needle and thread were just part of the game as 15 members of the Schofield Shutterbugs Camera Club roamed Wahiawa in search of unusual photo subjects.

As part of their scavenger hunt, club members hung by the knees from trees to get a better angle on an abstract shot of the Wahiawa bridge. They also snapped pictures of a service station with the viewpoint of a prospective buyer, and tested their creative impulses in photographing a barber pole.

The Wahiawa photo hunt will result in (1) a gold trophy for the best photographer and (2) more enthusiasm for the Shutterbugs, according to club advisor Myron Hastings, PIO specialist for the 2/35th Inf.

Membership in the six-months old organization is growing, and all amateur photographers on post are invited to drop by the Crafts Center at 7 p.m. Mondays to sit in on meetings.

Side Glances . . .

Another reminder: the climax of Armed Forces Day is the big 8 p.m. military ball Saturday at Ft. DeRussy's Maluhia Service Club. Miss Mimi Pente and her club staff are lining up free refreshments, live dance band music . . . and lots 'n lots of girls. Dress for enlisted men is either uniform or sports coat and tie. It's semi-formal for the gals.

Another "Show of Stars" is set for Conroy Bowl June 16. It'll feature rock 'n roll singer Dee Dee Sharp and the Beach Boys, an instrumental and vocal group.

Lionel Hampton, master of the drums and vibes, will make a one-night stand at Conroy Bowl at 8 p.m. May 26. Tickets at $1 apiece go on sale Monday or may be purchased at the bowl.

Armed Forces Week will receive a musical salute Sunday on "Pacific Report" at 2 p.m. on KTRG. "The Big Picture" Sunday at 12:30 p.m. on KONA-TV will deal with the Military Air Transport Service, and "The Army Hour," heard on KGU at 11:05 a.m. Saturday, features General Paul L. Freeman, Jr., Commander-in-Chief of U.S. Army, Europe, discussing Army reorganization.

Freedom Is Long Way Off for Soviet People

The dictators of Communist Russia seem once again to be turning to the "hard line," flexing their muscles and consequently placing a firm hammerlock on any freedom of expression.

Many of the works of Soviet artists, writers and musicians are now being labeled as "rotten sentimental complacency." A case in point is the noted poet Yevgeny Yevtushenko who has been prevented from making a scheduled visit to the United States.

The Soviets have said that Mr. Yevtushenko is ill but certainly no one will think about bacteria, viruses or the like in connection with the "illness."

Since Mr. Khrushchev attacked Mr. Yevtushenko in a speech last March 8, the poet seems to be all but a prisoner in his own country. He apparently has been denied the right to make a statement in his own defense and may even be accused of treason for all the Free World knows.

The enforced clampdown on men of literature and the arts has once again shown the democracies a vivid picture of the complete and repressive domination of the Communist Party in the Soviet Union today.

Many other top Soviet writers have been conspicuously absent from comment also. We are jolted into the realization, once again, that even a decade after Stalin, the courage to speak out in Russia today is unthinkable.

Unfortunately the arts in the Soviet Union merely remain another propaganda device to be manipulated at will by the Kremlin. (AFPS)

Chaplain's Column

Boredom is the result of spiritual stagnation. It can only be remedied by irrigating those areas of the soul which neglect has made parched and barren.

Modern man concentrates on the mind and body and forgets about his soul. He dooms to frustration his most vital capacities. His spiritual faculties, intellect and will, are not allowed to operate at capacity. The result is spiritual starvation. Life becomes a series of humdrum occurrences with which we are glad to be finished. There is no purpose, no joy or happiness in such a life.

Your automobile cannot function properly when it uses only two cylinders. Neither can you. The most fundamental part of your personality must be activated if you are to live a full and happy life.

This means that your soul must be allowed to reach out for the object which will satisfy its hunger, for the true, the good, and the beautiful. This means that you must know, love, and serve God.

Man's dignity and greatness lie in the capacity to know and love God. It is the tragedy of modern life that so few men realize their nobility, that so few men exercise the capacities which raise them above the animals.

Prayer is the most effective way of bringing into play the depths of our personalities. It is the activity most befitting our dignity. Prayer puts us into contact with absolute goodness, truth, and beauty. Our spiritual hunger is satisfied. Our restlessness and frustration melt into fruition.

Prayer revolutionizes our lives, giving them new meaning. Everything we do takes on new purpose. Our whole lives are orientated toward God. This is the source of great joy and peace. We know that we are fulfilling the reason of our existence, that we are bearing fruit in the only production line which will continue after death.

Armed Forces Day Messages

On this Armed Forces Day, 1963, we in the United States Army, Pacific realize full well the meaning of "Power for Peace" as we carry out our important mission in this Pacific-Asian theatre. We are proud and honored to serve with our sister services who are engaged with us in this current world struggle to maintain human dignity and freedom.

Our soldiers today stand prepared to fulfill the mission of preserving the peace. They represent the finest traditions and skills. They are prepared physically and mentally to meet the vigorous demands of the modern combat soldier.

I have been impressed on my recent tour throughout the command with the high degree of motivation of our military personnel. The soldier today understands the need for his presence in foreign lands and this reflects the mental conditioning that is so essential for him today. He lives and works with many people. They have found him to be a truly inspiring and representative American.

On behalf of all USARPAC personnel, I extend best wishes to all members of the Armed Services of the United States of America for a successful Armed Forces Day celebration and for a future bright with accomplishments.

JAMES F. COLLINS
General, USA
CinC, U.S. Army, Pacific

On this Armed Forces Day, 1963, the 25th Infantry Division is again on the move, fulfilling its peacetime mission as the major strategic Army reserve in the Pacific. Some of our troops are already in Thailand preparing for Exercise Dhanarajata. Others are preparing to leave Hawaii in the near future to participate in this, the greatest SEATO exercise ever held.

America's Power for Peace is more than America's own armed might, ready and capable of defending America's freedom from aggression outside our borders. Our Power for Peace also rests in our ability to work with all our freedom-loving allies, as did 25th Division troops last year in Southeast Asia and in the Philippines. America's Power for Peace is also the ability of the Army and Air Force, Navy, Marine Corps, and Coast Guard to work together for a common cause, backed by the efforts of the dedicated civilian employees of all the services.

I salute the 25th Infantry Division on this Armed Forces Day and the other Army units and our sister services for the contributions they are making and will always make to keep America strong and free.

ANDREW J. BOYLE
Major General, USA
CG, 25th Inf. Div.

Each year during the past decade, the active and reserve components of Armed Forces have joined with civil authorities and community leaders to give our citizens and the people of other countries an opportunity to become better acquainted with the military aspects of our national strength. This opportunity is offered on 18 May, Armed Forces Day. The theme for the program this year is "POWER FOR PEACE."

For those of us here in Hawaii, Armed Forces Day takes on added significance because it is one of the few places in America that a person can see a significant representation of all the military forces that stand guard on the global frontiers of freedom.

The Army is being faced with, increasingly grave responsibilities for national security as a member of our united defense team. Today, the free world's security can be endangered not only by a nuclear attack, but by forces of subversion, infiltration, guerrilla warfare, and a series of limited wars. The Army must be ready now to deal with any size of force, and we must help train local forces to be equally effective. Our soldiers' presence along the Iron and Bamboo Curtains is heartening evidence of our allies that we share their perils and together with our sister services—the Navy and the Air Force—we have in being the power for peace.

Hawaii NG Offers 1-Year Enlistment

The Hawaii Army National Guard last week inaugurated a new enlistment program under which men with previous military service are offered a unique opportunity to enlist in a unit for a one-year "trial" period, rather than the customary two or three-year minimum.

The program is open to men up to 60 years of age who have previous military service either on active duty or in the reserve components. Provided there are unit vacancies, they may enlist at the last military rank they held.

NG officials, realizing that a large number of men hesitate to join the Guard ranks for a three-year hitch because they are not fully aware of the Guard's opportunities, believe that the "Try One" program will dispel many of their apprehensions.

The NG is hopeful the new program will attract men with experience and training who can fill the gap left by the large number of WWII veterans who are retiring from the Guard after 20 years' service.

Col. Gerard Is Elected President of PMOC

One of the top men in the Army's Military Police system in Hawaii has been elected president of the Schofield Barracks Protestant Men of the Chapel.

Col. Paul T. Gerard, Provost Marshal of the U.S. Army, Hawaii, will head the group organized last year to extend religious fellowship among men of all ranks. Col. Adrian L. Hoebeke, the former Chief of Staff of the command, was the group's first president.

Besides Colonel Gerard, other new officers are Maj. Roger W. Baker, vice president; Sp5 Bertrum Lewis, treasurer; and Sgt. Roy Smith, secretary.

Hawaii Blood Bank Drive On Post Begins Monday

From May 20 to the 24th the Blood Bank of Hawaii will visit Schofield to solicit blood donations from Division personnel.

The Blood Bank furnishes blood to all hospitals in the state, including Tripler General Hospital, and depends on voluntary support of both the civilian and military communities to replenish its blood resources.

Commanders have been instructed to insure that qualified individuals are given the opportunity to make a donation.

Approximately 100 donors are needed each day. Schedule for blood donation will be posted on all unit bulletin boards.

Donors will report to the Medical Holding Ward, second floor lanai, Main Post Dispensary.

'Clothes for Korea' Drive Underway

The annual "Clothes for Korea" drive sponsored by USARPAC to gather clothing for distribution to the poor and needy of Korea is underway.

All military personnel are requested to give warm serviceable clothing suitable in Korea's climate which is no

Collection boxes will be in the Chief of Staff Conference Room, second floor, building 690, and the sally port, building 690. Items will be picked up weekly for turn-in to the central storage facility at Kapaehaena Basin.

Financial Responsibility The Debt Adjusters

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the second of a series of articles on Financial Responsibility prepared by the Legal Assistance Division, Office of the Judge Advocate General.)

A widely circulated U.S. magazine recently published an article under the heading: "Warning: The Debt Adjusters Are Back."

To hundreds and more likely thousands of servicemen this would hardly be news.

They could tell you first-hand of their experience with some debt adjusters who call themselves debt poolers, debt liquidators, proraters, debt managers or credit counsellors.

There are a number of legitimate, reputable debt adjusting agencies, one legal expert said, which render a very worthwhile service to clients at legal interest rates.

He cautioned, however, that before you turn your finances over to any company you should subject it to careful scrutiny for honesty and fair play.

Generally, debt adjusters operate in this manner:

To begin, we'll assume you have piled debts end-on-end and can't meet credit obligations.

In desperation you seek out a debt adjuster. You've seen his advertisement which reads: "Not a finance company. No interest. No co-signers. No security needed. We handle your debts for you. Inquiries from military personnel invited."

Your debt liquidator is agreeable. He will lump your bills into one tidy knot and take care of all the details.

"Just sign this agreement and make a $25 deposit to cover our costs of opening books on you and contacting your creditors," he counsels you, and then adds: "This deposit is forfeited only in case you default on your agreement with us."

Once signed and sealed, your man attempts to work out a plan with your creditors whereby the adjuster pays them off on a regular basis.

Anyway, you've signed up, and the routine starts. All goes well for a few months, and then up pops an emergency. You can't pay your adjuster.

Once payment is missed your creditors hop on your adjuster. He simply says: "No payment to me—no payment to you."

Right here the bubble breaks. You've lost all of the fees and interest to the adjuster and still owe your debts.

The debt adjusters usually take their fee "off the top" of what ever you give them before they pay off your creditors. One now-defunct company collected $214 from a client but paid out only $38 to a single creditor.

The Better Business Bureau advises heavily involved debtors to avoid any step that will pile debt on top of debt.

To avoid a possible involvement that can cost you additional money, seek advice from your legal assistance officer or civilian attorney before taking action. (AFPS)

The 27th Inf. Wolfhounds ended their two-game losing streak as they edged defending champion Division Artillery, 6-5, in a 10-inning affair that saw the 'Hounds' starting pitcher and manager ejected from the game.

Joe Klein, making his first appearance on the mound for the 27th, aided his own cause as he caught the Cannoneer infield looking the other way, laid down a bunt past the pitcher in the home half of the 10th inning to advance Clyde Fischer to second.

Ike Toyama singled Fischer across the plate with the winning run taking a three-two pitch of losing pitcher Jack Yates and driving it into right field.

HAW Specialist Receives Reserve Commission

Come July an administrative specialist from Hq., USARHAW will trade his stripes for a gold bar and become a Reserve officer.

The reason — SP4 Dale F. Wise, son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel A. Wise, of 328 Springdale Ave., York, Pa. has been commissioned a Finance Corps second lieutenant in Reserve.

Maj. Gen. Carl Darnell, Jr., USARHAW CG, presented the 25-year-old enlisted man his commission recently in an informal ceremony at USARHAW Headquarters, Bldg. 580, where the specialist works as a statistical clerk in the military personnel division, G-1. ## 14th's Ham Station Calls 'Mom'

"Hello, Mom, how are you?" That familiar call was heard Sunday at the Schofield Barracks Armed Forces Week Open House at Lightning Field as operators from the 14th Inf. transmitted messages to distant points over the Military Affiliate Radio System (MARS) facilities which were on display to the public. The transmission was made using radio relay (station-to-station) for points beyond the capabilities of the base station.

AB6EPT, the 14th Inf.'s call name manned by Sgt. Rondal E. Jenkins and Sgt. James McLeod at the Open House, will soon be a permanent station at the battle group's home in Quad E. The 14th will install radio transmission facilities, and radio teletype, and eventually will become one of the MARS stations on post.

Sergeant McLeod, an active licensed amateur since 1959, will be joined by SP4 John O'Donnel, an operator since 1955, in manning the Golden Dragons' station when it becomes operational.

The 14th Inf. station will also be on display this Saturday at the Ala Moana Park as part of the Division's Armed Forces Day exhibits. It will again operate over the MARS network to establish contacts between the Mainland and Far East, as it did last Sunday at Schofield.

Maj. Lloyd A. Epperson, of USARHAW G-4 and one of the project officers for the Open House, termed the affair "an outstanding success."
