Div. Soldiers Get Sea Legs Preparing For 'West Wind'

Soldiers of the 25th Inf. Div. are getting their sea legs in shape for next month's "Exercise West Wind."

Men of the Division's 1st Bde who will be hitting Papohaku Beach on D-Day, April 15, are learning the tricks of transferring from attack transports to small landing craft on the "beach" at Schofield Barracks.

Their instructors are Marine Corps non-commissioned officers from the Landing Force Training Unit, Naval Amphibious Base, Coronado, Calif., and the "Tropic Lightning" troops even have a pair of "landing craft" in which to practice—on dry land.

The Division men—who have learned the tricks of air mobility during trips from as far as Thailand to the Island of Hawaii—are finding out that there's a big difference in walking down the ramp of a Military Air Transport Service jet and climbing down a cargo net while carrying their weapons and equipment. "Dry net training," as it's called, is learning to climb a 45-foot-tall tower, using a cargo net as ladder, then descending the other side of the tower on a cargo net into a mockup of a landing craft.

The men are finding that climbing the net itself isn't hard—except that they do it by the numbers, each rank of four abreast being required to move at the pace of the slowest member of the quartet—with each man carrying weapon, ammunition belt, pack, entrenching tool and blanket roll, topped off by steel helmet and life vest.

Some 300 soldiers are taking the training daily in preparation for "West Wind," and these experts in jungle and guerrilla warfare are finding that cargo nets are far dif-

Post Dental Section Will Receive Help From Gray Ladies

Schofield's Dental Section will receive needed on-the-job assistance shortly—and the cause of preventive dentistry will be furthered—when Red Cross Gray Ladies complete a 55-hour course in dental practices and become 'third hands' for the section's 30 dental officers.

Fifty-three ladies, military dependents of local officers and enlisted men, began attendance at 25 hours of lectures Monday under the direction of Lt. Col. Stanley S. Ascher, chief of the oral surgery department. Thirty hours of practical training will follow.

"Our course," said Col. Thayne F. McManis, USARHAW dental surgeon, "is detailed enough to enable the volunteers to fill important positions in our clinic as dental assistants."

Schofield's dental section will be the first in the Pacific area to benefit by volunteer assistants. Gray Ladies have been successfully employed at Ft. Dix, N. J., and at other Army dental sections. Impetus to the idea of Gray Ladies serving as dental assistants was provided by Maj. Gen. Joseph L. Bernier, the Army's dental surgeon, when he proposed in October, 1962, that the American Red Cross establish a volunteer program to assist dental officers in the discharge of professional duties.

No Educational System Offers Students More

Service in the Armed Forces of the United States offers an opportunity to secure one of the best educations in the world, particularly in the technological fields, according to a report from the Bureau of Publications, Teachers College, Columbia University.

The Columbia report says the Armed Forces spend more money on education than all the American colleges and universities combined and provide one of the most extensive and advanced educational programs.

The report examines basic recruit training, technical training, officer-candidate courses, officer training, the service war colleges, the joint colleges and off-duty education at local institutions, on post and by correspondence courses provided by the service.

It also covers the military services' teacher-training programs, educational research projects, other research, and instructional methods.

The report says "the quality of instruction in the Armed Forces is superior. The time and money spent by the Armed Forces on educational research greatly exceed that of traditional academic institutions.

The subjects taught by the Armed Forces range from the three R's to requirements for a Ph.D. degree. At any one time, the survey shows, as many as 300,000 military personnel may be attending school.

Are you among these 300,000? Can you afford not to be? Many jobs in the Armed Forces now require skills and knowledge that were unheard of a few years back.

Don't let your job advance behind your capabilities. Columbia University says you have one of the best educational systems at your disposal—take advantage of it. (AFPS)

Chaplain's Column

The National Safety Council warns: "SLOW DOWN AT SUNDOWN." Dusk is the most dangerous driving time of the day. A time when accidents are most frequent and most devastating. This is because there is light enough so that you think you can see, and, it is dark enough so that you cannot see properly.

An ancient king, watching his city being destroyed by the armies of the enemy, cried out in despair, "The twilight which I desired has become a terror to me."

In the ancient Middle East the intense heat from the sun burned through the dust-free atmosphere without mercy. The twilight of the day was much desired. It was a time of rest and ease. A time, when in the cool of the early evening, the town suddenly came to life. Business resumed, children played and parents relaxed.

But, in the twilight also came the greatest danger. In the half-light of dusk, the enemy could slip up undetected. Before the inhabitants were aware of any danger, the village was surrounded. The first intimation of disaster was the blood curdling scream of the enemy that froze the townsfolk in their tracks. The bedlam, terror and disorganization made it simple for the enemy to overpower the village, plunder it and pack off with the prizes of war. And so, the twilight which they desired became a terror to them.

There is a time of twilight in the life of each of us. A time of spiritual danger, of uncertainty, of insecurity, and of terror. It is in this most deadly area of spiritual life, that the shadows of evil desire become ogres that feed on our minds. The fears of doubt and insecurity mount until the ringing crescendos keep the whole truth from penetrating into our innermost being where it can take possession of our will. In the half-light of half-truth, we are content to be half committed.

We cannot live in the twilight and be in favor with our Heavenly Father. He will not sanction a half committed life. LET US WALK IN THE LIGHT AS HE IS IN THE LIGHT.

Army Dental Corps Has 53rd Birthday

"We are no longer 'tooth pullers and mechanics,'" said Col. Thayne F. McManis last week, during a Schofield celebration marking the 53rd birthday of the founding of the Army's Dental Corps as a separate organization.

"This familiar label has been swept away and the Army's Dental Corps is recognized today as a national leader in specialized dental practice, in research, and in the field of preventive dentistry."

Since Congress established the U. S. Army Dental Corps on March 3, 1911, highlights in the advance of military dentistry within the Army have been many. The Corps was increased from 86 officers on active duty at the outbreak of World War I to 4,620 dental officers by Nov. 30, 1918. Constant increase in training, research activity and the expansion of dental facilities followed in the years after World War I.

A Board of Dental Officers was established in 1919 to review and consider equipment used in peace or war. A Dental Reserve Officers Training Corps was created in 1920. In 1922 an Army Dental School was opened at the Army Medical Center in Washington, D.C., and a program of Army Dental Internships was established in 1939.

To meet the demands of World War II, the Corps was increased to a maximum strength of 15,292 officers. Seventy million teeth were filled and almost three million full or partial dentures were made through the course of World War II, a resounding indication of the change in character of Army dentistry.

Said General Bernier then: "With the ever increasing requirements for preventive and corrective dental health services by the Army Dental Corps, it has become paramount to successful mission accomplishment that sufficient, supplementary assistance be provided the dental officer to permit his exclusive attention to those procedures and services which by reason of education, training, experience, and law he alone can provide."

EM May Submit Applications For West Point Until June 30

Regular Army enlisted personnel of the 25th Infantry Division seeking nomination to United States Military Academy will be able to submit their applications before May 31, 1964, under recent changes in processing of applications. Qualified men have up to June 30, under certain conditions.

New procedures announced by Department of Army request all major commands to organize their testing programs to permit completion before the May 31 deadline.

This will permit a greater number of qualified men to be selected and notified at earlier dates than under the previous system.

Important changes in the process now requires that applicants identify their high schools and colleges or universities attended under "remarks" on DD Form 207; submit with the Form 207, a full-face picture, obtainable locally at no cost to the applicant, and forward academic transcripts to The Commandant, USMA Preparatory School, Ft. Belvoir, Virginia.

These transcripts, with test scores, will determine academic eligibility for nomination and attendance at the school.

A key change is that as soon as test papers are received from subordinate units, major commands will score the tests immediately and forward the applications and answer sheets to the Preparatory School.

Academic eligibility in each case will be determined by the Commandant of the school, who will request medical examinations for those applicants most likely to be selected.

Reassignment instructions will be issued by HQ DA to applicants found academically and physically acceptable for nomination and enrollment in the school.

Both applicants and their commanders will be advised of impending selections as far in advance as possible.

All reassignments will be completed not later than August 15, before the fall term begins.

In all matters pertaining to selection of Regular Army enlisted men for possible nomination to the Academy, direct communication is authorized and encouraged by the parties concerned.

New changes are effective immediately in the 1964 program and, if the system proves successful, will be incorporated in the AR before the 1965 application period.

Full details are available in Ar 350-55.

B Btry, 11th Arty Cannoneers Learn 105 Disassembly

More than 40 men of the 11th Arty's Btry B last week received the first instruction offered Division soldiers in the assembly, disassembly and transportation without vehicles of the 4,980-pound 105 howitzer.

The men dismantled by hand and carried away the weapon which is normally transported by truck or trailer. The largest section, weighing 1,070 pounds, was hauled away by nine men.

Instructors said the class's purpose was to impress on members of the artillery unit that one day, in the event that vehicle transportation is not available, they may be called on to hand-carry the artillery piece to a firing point.

SSgt. Charles Storms taught the men disassembly and transport of the howitzer, while assembly instruction was given by SSgt. Nathan Woolsey. Both NCOs are assigned to Btry B.

Two hours of practical work in assembly and disassembly of the 105 howitzer followed the instruction period.

Hawaii, California Guardsmen To Trade Training Grounds

Approximately 1,200 Hawaii and California Army National Guardsmen will exchange training areas for two weeks this summer, according to Maj. Gen. Robert L. Stevenson, State Adjutant General.

Over 600 Kauai and Oahu Guardsmen of the 1st Bn., 299th Inf., plus Molokai and Kona, Hawaii units of the 3rd Bn., will be flown to California this summer to receive desert warfare training at Camp Roberts, California June 7 to 20.

The local reservists will be under the command of Lt. Col. Archie Kennison, Jr.

During the same period, 600 California Army National Guardsmen of the 1st Bn., 185th Inf., 49th Div. will receive jungle and guerrilla warfare training at Schofield Barracks. They will train with the remaining HNG men of the 2nd and 3rd Bns., 299th Inf., plus units of the 227th Eng. Bn.

Called "Guardlift I," the cross training is designed to familiarize Guardsmen with military operations under different climatical conditions. Additionally, the giant airlift, involving some 15 units and over 10,500 Guardsmen of various states, is designed to acquaint Guard planners with the problems of mobilization and quick movement to possible danger areas.

It is planned that this concept of training, the largest ever undertaken by the National Guard, will become an annual training program, according to National Guard authorities. Brig. Gen. Charles Southward, Chief of the National Guard Bureau's Army Division, was quoted in Army Times as saying the Guard wants to include a European trip in its plan for "Guardlift II" next year.

The California Guardsmen will arrive in Hawaii June 6 by Air National Guard 4-engine transports. The Hawaii Guardsmen will board the same aircraft for the return trip to California. The HNG men will return to Honolulu on June 20 and California reservists will return home on June 21.

Bde FTX Climaxes Stay On "Big Island" For 3rd

As elements of the 2nd Bde began to move to Pohakuloa Training Area early this month for "Operation High Top III," the 3rd Bde's task force returned to Schofield from its month of training on the "Big Island."

The month-long training period was climaxed with a three-day FTX for the Brigade, which is under the command of Col. James L. Erickson.

Involved in the three-day FTX in the maneuver area between Mauna Kea and Mauna Loa were the 1st and 2nd Bns., 35th Inf.; Hqs., 3rd Bde; 2/9th Arty; Co. C, 65th Eng. Bn.; Co. B, 69th Armor; Co. D, 725th Maint. Bn., and a platoon from the 25th MP Co.

Task Force Green (1/35th Inf., the 2/9th Arty minus one battery; Co. B, 1/69th Armor and an ANGLICO detachment) started the exercise with a 130-mile motor march around the eastern coast of the island, through Hilo and back into the PTA maneuver area.

The remaining units of the Brigade, comprising Task

Forces Blue and Aqua and Brigade Control, started the second day and followed the earlier task force's route around the island to join the 1/35th and set up operations.

During the final phase of the exercise, the 2/35th moved down Bobcat Trail, the 1/35th over Bronco Trail and Brigade Control along Saddle Road to seal off the area completely.

The month at Pohakuloa also featured annual ATTs, three-day FTXs for the two battalions, a 1/35th foot march down Bobcat Trail and into what was formerly the impact area, and a live fire exercise in the maneuver area for the 2/35th.

Air support for the exercises was supplied by the 8th Avn. Section and Naval aircraft of the carrier USS Ticonderoga.

Sports Omens

by DALE OMENSON

An almost completely revamped Army baseball team will take the field at Hickam AFB Friday, April 10, to open the 1964 Inter-Service season.

Only three of last year's top performers are expected back, and W. M. "Poi" Burgess will replace Skippy Gomard and Sammy Souza at the managerial helm. The latter pair will serve this season as coaches.

So it appears to be anybody's guess at this stage whether Army will be able to improve on last year's third place finish.

The three returnees were all vital cogs in 1963's machine. Catcher John Casprowitz led the league in homers with 10 while hitting a respectable .294—ninth in the league.

Willie Martin, a dragnet at second or short, finished with a fat .365 mark, losing the batting title to the Marine's Bob Vostry by only five points.

Wayne Cassaway, while compiling a mediocre 3-5 mound record, proved his pitching ability by recording the loop's eighth best earned run average—3.30.

Gone, however, are the likes of Jerry Simmons, Bill Bragg and Bob Medearis.

Simmons, along with Casprowitz and Martin, was named to the 1963 Service All-Star team after finishing third in batting at .359.

Bragg and Medearis were top-notch hurlers. Bragg compiled a 7-3 record while turning in the league's fifth best ERA (2.52), and Medearis won 10, lost six and concluded with a 3.62 earned run average.

The fact that the Division Baseball League was concluded prior to the Inter-Service campaign this year, instead of being run concurrently, is one factor that points to a strong Army representative in 1964.

Last year, some of the top Division players undoubtedly could have helped the "big team." Many probably chose regular play over riding the Army bench.

Also, with the Division season behind them, the Army regulars figure to be in top shape at the opening bell.

The 1963 entry started slow, winning only nine while dropping 15 in the first half, then reversing that mark in the second round to finish at 24-24.

It wound up 14 games behind the powerful Hawaii Marines, who won 19 and lost only five in each half for a 38-10 overall record.

SubPac finished second in the composite at 29-18, Hickam took fourth with a 16-31 record, and Pearl Harbor brought up the rear at 12-36.

The Inter-Service baseball schedule this year has been expanded to 60 games. Each team will meet every opponent 15 times.

Although the site of each Army home game has not yet been established, it has been announced that most of them will be played at Redlander Field. Latest guesses are that six of the 30 will be contested at Ft. Shafter—last year's home base.

Pearl Harbor, which represented the Navy alone in 1963, has "merged" with Naval Air for the 1964 campaign. So the sailors loom much tougher this time.

The Army's first home game will be against the defending champion Marines April 14 at Redlander Field.

The HASAC Freestyle Tournament is the next objective of Army's unbeaten wrestling team. It will be held at Kaneohe Marine Corps Air Station beginning at 1 p.m. Saturday. The grapplers were idle last weekend.

USARPAC bowling, volleyball, tennis and golf championships are all scheduled in the near future. The bowling tourney will be held in late May, volleyball and tennis in early July, and golf in August.

Further information on these sports will be available soon.

Soccer Club Clips Second Place RAF

The Schofield Soccer Club broke a close game wide open with four goals in the final 20 minutes to register a 7-1 win over second-place Hickam RAF Sunday at Vandenburg Field.

The victory was Schofield's third straight, and gave it a 3-0-1 Hawaii Soccer Association record. The loss was Hickam's fifth against seven wins and a pair of ties.

The locals led 2-1 at half-time and 3-1 with only 20 minutes remaining, but then Bev Powell, Joe Cutugno, Norris Dowdy and Cutugno again scored goals in rapid succession to turn the tense battle into a rout.

Right-Wing Powell's goal kept his record of having scored in every game intact, while Cutugno's pair gave him four for the game and a team-leading total of six for the season.

Dowdy, who was recently voted team captain by the squad, scored his goal despite a painful groin injury that would've kept him out of the game except for soccer's limited substitution rules.

Hickam opened the scoring within the first five minutes when George Radford hit on a breakaway, but Schofield deadlocked it several minutes later as Paul Betzios crossed the ball from the left-wing position in front of the net and a Hickam player accidentally kicked it in. Betzios received credit for the goal.

With 15 minutes elapsed, Cutugno took a cross from Betzios and while lying on his back shoved the ball in to give Schofield a lead it never relinquished.

Schofield's next game is scheduled for Sunday at Stone-man Field against East-West Center. The clash, which gets underway at 2 p.m., will close out the locals' home schedule for the regular season.

In the teams' last meeting, Schofield prevailed, 8-0.

Warriors Beat DivArty In First Playoff Game

The 2nd Bde Warriors erupted for four runs in the seventh inning, then went on to defeat the DivArty Cannoneers, 9-4 in the opening game of the 25th Div. Baseball League's double-elimination championship play-off March 11.

The game was tied, 2-2, when Bob Huntsberger reached first on third-baseman Tom Glover's miscue with one out in the seventh. Bill Devine drew a base on balls, and after McKinley Simon popped up for the second out, Dave Anderson reached first safely on another DivArty miscue to load the bases. A hit batter and a wild pitch gave the Warriors a 4-2 lead, and then Bill Dudley "iced" the game and decked losing pitcher Shelton Johnson with a double down the first base line.

Clyde Cox, 1-0 during the regular season, went the route to pick up the victory, yielding nine hits while fanning eight and issuing four bases on balls. Johnson, who was 4-5, gave up six runs (two earned) on seven safeties while striking out five and walking a pair.

The Warriors' Tom Linko paced all batters with three hits in four at-bats, while Dudley finished with a single and his two-run double in four tries.

Kennis Davis tripled and singled for the Cannoneers, and Dallas Williams singled twice and drove in half of DivArty's four runs. He was robbed of a third hit when center-fielder Larry Stofflett made a backhanded, shoestring catch of his drive in the fourth.

Israel Velez, 1/35th Inf., won a decision over Jhun AC's George Gorozza and will meet Joe Soares, William Mara AC, for the flyweight crown next week.

Hector Santos, 2/35th Inf., TKO'd William Kaai of Kalihi Valley in a 132-pound bout and will challenge Aliamanu BC's Dennis Clements in the finals. Clements won a decision over Phillip Reed, 1/14th Inf., Monday.

John Beccera, DivArty, lost a 112-pound quarter-final scrap to William Mara AC's tough Louis Soares, via decision. Soares was later upset by Kalihi-Juhio's Teddy Doi in the evening's main event.

Nine Army Boxers Journey To Korea For 'PAC Tourney

300 Game

MSgt. Warren Hershman, HHC, 1st Bde, turned in a 300 game March 12 at Bowling Alley No. 1

Hershman said it was the first 300 of his life.

"Every bowler naturally thinks about it," he added, "just like each golfer dreams of a hole-in-one."

"I had come close before, with one 298 game and a pair of 297s, so naturally it was a big thrill to make it." Hershman said he hadn't been bowling too much lately, "usually one afternoon and one evening a week," and his average had slipped to 180.

But he had carried a 202 mark "When I was bowling often," he said.

Other Swim Clubs in the meet included Hickam, Pearl Harbor, Kaneohe Bay and Aulea.

Shark winners were:
400-meter individual medley, boys, 13-14 - Errol Aboe, 5:47.

HE'S OUT - The 3rd Bde's Barclay Fisher uses a hook slide in attempt to swipe third base in the fifth inning of Thursday night's Bronco-2nd Bde game, but he was tagged out by third-baseman Bill Devine. The Broncos won, 10-3.

Broncos Use Power Attack To Take Second Tourney Tilt

The top-seeded 3rd Bde Broncos unleashed a 13-hit attack to bury the 2nd Bde Warriors, 10-3 in the second game of the 25th Div. Baseball League championship playoffs March 12.

The victory left the Broncos the only unbeaten nine in the three-team, double elimination tourney.

The booming bat of catcher John Casprowitz, who led the league in hitting at .414 and was voted the MVP, was one of the big factors in the Warriors' downfall.

He bombed a 400-foot double into straight-away center field to start a three-run Bronco rally in the second inning, singled in the third, walked in the fifth, and scored the game's final run after sending home a pair with a line drive double down the right field line in the seventh.

While the Broncos' bats boomed, Wayne Gassaway was scattering eight hits and maintaining his unbeaten record. The league's top pitcher allowed only one earned run and exhibited his usually fine control, walking only one batter; He fanned eight.

Despite the fact the 3rd Bde committed four errors, Gassaway received fine support—especially from left fielder Charles Jex and shortstop Willie Martin. Jex snared two drives deep in the outfield after long runs, and Martin gobbled up a pair of slow hit grounders on the right field side of second to cut off potential infield singles.

All-Star second baseman Ed McGowan and the off-and-on Barclay Fisher also had hot bats. McGowan drove in two runs with a line drive, bases loaded single in the fourth and finished at three-for-five, while Fisher singled twice and doubled in three official at-bats, also driving in a pair.

Ed Bosse hurled the first 3 1/3 innings and yielded five runs on seven hits to take the loss. Charles Moore was tagged for six hits and five tallies in 5 2/3 innings of relief.

Bill Devine paced all the Warriors at the plate with three singles. Bill Dudley singled twice and drove in one run.

League's MVP Collects 5 of 8; Averages .625

The 25th Division Baseball League's Most Valuable Player and batting champion, John Casprowitz, collected five hits in eight at-bats during the post-season championship tourney for a .625 average.

He finished the regular season with a .414 mark. The 5-for-8 gives him an overall average of .436.

Among his five hits in the playoffs were two doubles—one a 400-foot shot to straightaway center-field. He drove in three runs and scored two.

The explosive 3rd Bde Broncos erupted for five runs in the fourth inning, then coasted to a 7-2 victory over the 2nd Bde Warriors Saturday to take the 1964 25th Division Baseball Championship.

The win was the Broncos' second without defeat in the post-season double elimination Championship Tourney, and extended their winning streak to 16 games. They finished the season with a 20-1 record, losing only to John Robinson and the 1st Bde Titans, 3-2, in their fourth game. Ironically, it was the only win the Titans managed in the first half, although they wound up in fourth

Davis' Five-Hit Hurling Leads Warriors To Runnerup Finish

Behind the five-hit pitching of Harry Davis, the 2nd Bde Warriors clipped the DivArty Cannoneers, 6-1, Friday to clinch second place in the 25th Division Baseball Race.

The loss eliminated DivArty from the Championship Tournament.

Davis, who hurled a no-hitter earlier in the season against these same Cannoneers, had a two-hitter going into the ninth when three DivArty singles ruined his shutout bid.

But until the sixth, he was matched pitch for pitch by the Cannoneers' Jackie Yates. The sore-armed right hander had yielded only a first inning single to shortstop McKinley Simon before the roof caved in.

After Davis drew a base on balls, Cannoneer shortstop James Stack fumbled a potential double play ball to put runners on first and second.

Yates, his arm obviously bothering him, uncorked a wild pitch while walking Bill Devine to load the bases. He got one force out at the plate, but then Bill Dudley rammed a single through the middle.

After Yates, now almost shot-putting the ball, heaved the next pitch behind the next batter, the game right-hander was replaced by Benny Horton. He was touched for a two-run single by Dave Anderson after passing Guedea, and before the smoke cleared the Warriors had amassed a 5-0 lead.

Yates hurled 5 1/3 innings and was charged with the first four runs and the loss. He struck out three and walked three. One of the runs was unearned.

Davis, who compiled an impressive 4-1 record with a 2.4 ERA during the regular season, was seldom better for eight innings. He had yielded only an infield scratch single and another through the middle before weakening slightly at the end. He finished with 11 strikeouts and issued four bases on balls.

Yates, who had compiled a 5-1 mark before Friday's game, had retired 14 of 15 batters prior to the sixth.

Dudley, who doubled and scored the Warriors' final run in the eighth after contributing his big hit in the sixth, was the only batter with more than one safety.

place with an overall 6-12 mark.

Phil Moore, who absorbed that lone Bronco loss but finished the regular season with a 5-1 record, hurled five-hit ball for 8 2/3 innings Saturday to pick up the win. After wriggling out of a first inning jam, he held the Warriors to a trio of infield singles before running into control trouble in the ninth. Bill Castleberry relieved him with the bases loaded in that inning and struck out the last batter.

The two teams were deadlocked at 1-1 when the Broncos suddenly exploded in the fourth. After Castleberry had flown out to center, Barclay Fisher walked and Charles Jex moved him to third with a double down the left field line.

James Braun promptly cashed them both in with a sharp single between first and second, and after Moore bounced into a force out, Ed McGowan walked, Willie Martin lined a single to right to cash in the inning's third run, Roosevelt Collins was safe on an error as McGowan brought home the fourth marker, and John Casprowitz drove a single into right-center to send in the final tally.

All five runs came off losing pitcher James Brock, who settled down thereafter and held the champions to four hits the rest of the way.

McGowan was the game's hitting star, finishing with a double and a pair of singles in four official at-bats and scoring three times. The All-Star second baseman gathered six hits in nine at-bats (.677) during the tournament.

Moore finished his 8 2/3 inning stint with four strikeouts and five bases on balls, while Braun issued three walks and fanned seven in his route-going effort.

The Warriors' Bill Dudley had 2-for-4 in each of his team's four tournament games to finish at 8-for-16 (.500).

Income Tax Reduction To Boost Soldiers' Take Home Earnings

The men of the 25th Infantry Division will benefit by about $55,000 this month when the tax cut takes effect, but there is a word of advice from the Division finance office - save part or all of the money you no longer have to pay toward your income tax, since you may need it when you file your tax return for 1964!

The tax cut will constitute an average reduction of about three per cent on base pay, increasing "take home" pay by about the same figure.

There will be no adjustment made on tax already withheld during 1964.

Finance officials advise that taxpayers increase their personal savings program as it has been pointed out by the Department of the Army that the average taxpayer will have to pay additional tax.

The reason for this is that the reduction in tax rate is applicable over a two year period, and what is paid out in excess this year will be evened out in the 1965 fiscal year.

Congress has authorized the minimum deduction of 14 per cent to be spread over a two-year period.

This will result in a smaller pay roll reduction for calendar year 1964, but the actual payment to the Internal Revenue Service when filing the tax return will be computed at a slightly higher rate.

To balance out the tax for this period, the tax cut was made effective immediately, but any adjustment in total annual tax deductions will be made only at the end of the year when filing the tax return.

To compensate for any tax payment which may be necessary at the end of the year, individuals may reduce the number of withholdings to avoid any possible hardship when filing the 1964 income tax return.

The 25th Division's finance office has produced new tax tables at the new rate for manual computation and rewired accounting machines to compute tax at 14 per cent instead of the former 18 per cent.

Army Health Nurse Cites Poison Danger

In connection with the observance of National Poison Prevention Week March 15-21, 1st Lt. Phyllis Leavitt, Army Health Nurse for the Schofield Area, has compiled a list of warnings to parents of small children.

Last year, she added, 540,000 children in the United States received medical attention for accidental ingestion of such common household items as bleach, detergents, waxes, kerosene, lighter fluid, fuel oil, paint, turpentine, pesticides, nail polish and hair spray.

Among her warnings to parents are:

Keep all drugs, poisonous substances and household chemicals out of reach of children. If your child is a "climber," keep poisons under lock and key.

Do not store nonedible products on shelves used for storing food.

Do not transfer poisonous substances to unlabeled containers, or containers originally used for food products.

When a medication is no longer needed for its prescribed use, discard it.

Do not discard medicines where children might get them. Dispose of all medications in the toilet.

Never tell children you are giving them candy when you are actually giving them medicine.

Red Cross, CD To Offer Basic First Aid Class

A basic course in First Aid, conducted as a cooperative effort between Civil Defense and Red Cross, will begin Monday at the Education Center West, Class Room 3.

Three course times are being offered: 9 to 11 a.m. on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays from March 23 to April 3; 7 to 9 p.m. on Mondays, Wednesdays and Thursdays from March 23 to April 2, and 9 to 11 a.m. Tuesdays and Thursdays from March 24 to April 9.

The six-hour course of basic first aid is a prerequisite for enrollment in advanced first aid and instructor training courses to be offered later.

Jack Doar, Red Cross Assistant Field Director, Schofield Barracks, announced the course and emphasized the cooperative efforts with the Civil Defense movement.

Individual first aid is vital in times of personal emergency, but would be of dire necessity in times of natural disaster or national attack, he said.

Red Cross officials encouraged persons interested in attending the course to call the Red Cross office at Schofield Barracks, 65-0812.

Mission Of Military Veterinarians Includes More Than Animal Care

To many who have seen Veterinary Branch #2, at Schofield Barracks, the immediate impression was probably one of animal care and husbandry, but there is a far greater mission underlining the Veterinary Service.

The Post Veterinarian, be he in Hawaii or Berlin, is the guardian of the Army's stomach.

Capt. Richard R. Lawton, Post Veterinarian at Schofield Barracks, explained that the primary mission of Veterinary Officer is the inspection of subsistence and surveillance of the food stored and issued to troops and commissaries on Post.

Last year Captain Lawton and his team of enlisted personnel inspected a total of 51,000,000 pounds of food.

Broken down, the figure indicates that almost 140,000 pounds of food was inspected daily.

Samples of food products which are procured locally are submitted for testing at the USARHAW Medical Laboratory for bacteriological counts, fats and pasteurization.

Civilian establishments used by the Armed Forces for the procurement of produce also fall under the trained eye of the Post Veterinarian, for these sources of food for the soldier are inspected quarterly to insure hygienic conditions exist to warrant continued inclusion on the "approved list."

The animal care section, which is more commonly associated with the Veterinarian's duties, is in fact a small function operating on non-appropriated funds, limited to 10 per cent of the Veterinarian's time.

This facility is provided to keep a close watch on the animal health situation as there are over 100 diseases which may be transmitted from animals to man.

Here, at Schofield Barracks, an out-patient service is offered as well as facilities for immunization, boarding and quarantining.

There are an estimated 1,200 out-patients, which are brought to the clinic by appointment only.

During 1963 the clinic treated 4,476 out-patients, including birds, dogs, cats and even a monkey. More than 2,900 pets were immunized.

This out-patient service, which is limited to four hours a week, is available on Tuesday and Thursday afternoons. During the remainder of the week the Veterinarian is concerned with the duties of inspecting subsistence items to be issued to the troops for consumption in mess halls and in the field.
