Five Ships Arrive For 'West Wind'

Five U. S. Navy ships of Amphibious Squadron Three, which will support the Army and Marine Corps in Exercise "West Wind" pulled into Pearl Harbor Tuesday.

Brig. Gen. George I. Forsythe, ADC/M, 25th Inf. Div. and Troop Exercise Coordinator for "West Wind," greeted Capt. J. D. Linehan, Commander Amphibious

Squadron Three, and Commander Amphibious Task Force for the exercise, aboard the flagship USS George Clymer (APA-27).

The general and Captain Linehan discussed the upcoming problem with the commander of the Landing Force, Col. Claude D. Barton, CO, 1st Bde, 25th Inf. Div. Commanding Officer of the flagship is Capt. C. J. Smits.

The four ships which arrived with the Clymer are the USS Colonial (LSD-18), commanded by Cdr. R. B. Perez; the USS Winton (AKA-94), commanded by Capt. J. L. Lowentrou; the USS Cavalier (APA-37), commanded by Capt. R. L. Cochran, and the USS Pickaway (APA-222), commanded by Capt. W. A. Robie. They left their homeport of San Diego, Calif., eight days ago and will return May 6 after completion of "West Wind."

Five LSTs of Landing Ship Squadron Three, commanded by Cdr. T. E. Reynolds, USN, arrived at Pearl Harbor last week for the exercise. The LSTs which will help carry the men of the division and their equipment to Molokai are the USS Tioga County (LST-1158), commanded by LCdr. O. J. Vogal; USS Polk County (LST-1084), commanded by Lt. A. F. Ensley; USS Page County (LST-1076), commanded by Lt. B. A. Tager; USS Stone County (LST-1141), commanded by Lt. T. J. Beall, and USS Outagamie County (LST-1073), commanded by Lt. D. L. ## USARPAC Firing Competition Begins at Schofield Barracks

Hawaii, Okinawa and Japan are represented by a total of about 300 Army marksmen in the USARPAC Rifle and Pistol Matches which are under way at Schofield Barracks.

Competition began today in the Automatic Rifle matches and will continue with pistol and rifle firing April 13-19.

A team will be selected from among the top sharpshooters to represent USAR-

PAC in the All-Army matches in June at Ft. Benning, Ga.

An Excellence-in-Competition match, known among marksmen as a "leg match," will be held next Saturday and Sunday (April 11-12).

Battery Fires Salute To Honor MacArthur

A firing battery from Btry. C, 9th Arty, 25th Div. Arty, fired a 19-gun salute at Ft. Shafter at noon Monday and will repeat the salute at noon Saturday in memory of the late Gen. Douglas A. MacArthur.

General MacArthur's funeral will be held Saturday in Norfolk, Va.

Separate messages of sympathy to Mrs. MacArthur were sent by Gen. John K. Waters, CinC, USARPAC, and Maj. Gen. Carl Darnell Jr., CG, USARHAW. Maj. Gen. Andrew J. Boyle, CG, 25th Inf. Div., released a statement expressing the sorrow of the members of his command at General MacArthur's death.

Kennedy Theatre

An All-American cast will be seen in "The Coach With the Six Insides" which is being presented at the John F. Kennedy Theatre in Honolulu April 10, 11 and 12, direct from its success in New York and at three European play festivals.

But everyone portrayed in the "Coach" is supposed to be Irish. They are Dubliners who come to life in the dream of H. C. Earwicker, a tavern keeper in the city beside the Liffey River. The five Americans in the cast make no special effort to reproduce Irish brogue in their speech (they do it naturally), but they were a bit worried when they became a week-long star attraction last September at the Dublin Theatre Festival. Would Dubliners resent the American way of speech in characters supposed to be Dubliners? They did not.

Admission is $3.50 for adults and $2 for students and servicemen and advance reservations may be made by calling the theatre box office at 918-746 or 918-747.

'Venus' at Planetarium

"Venus - Veiled Goddess" is the name of the new show at Bishop Museum's Kilolani Planetarium which began April 1st and will run through May 17th.

"The nearest and brightest of the earth's planetary neighbors has been a source of mystery until very recent years," says George Bunton, planetarium manager. "But, as recently as November of 1962, astronomers determined the length of time required for Venus to rotate once on its axis. And the remarkable thing about it is that the key to this measurement was radar."

Another of Venus' closely guarded secrets, the temperature of the planet's surface, has recently been revealed through the use of the radio telescope. It proved to be far higher than expected, nearly 800 degrees.

Venus has hidden her face beneath a deep veil of unbroken clouds and has never been known to show the smallest break in her perpetual cloud cover. It is these very white clouds that contribute to the brilliance of the planet—the only heavenly body, besides the sun and moon, that is bright enough to be seen in the daytime sky.

Shows at the Planetarium are presented Wednesday, Friday, Saturday, and Sunday at 2 p.m.; Friday and Saturday nights at 8 p.m. Admission is 75¢ for adults during the day and $1.00 at night; 25¢ for children and servicemen at all shows.

The Pacific Report this week is devoted wholly to the recent Exercise Quick Release in Okinawa.

This week's Big Picture focuses on what U. S. Special Forces are doing to win the Montagnards, a primitive people who live in the central highlands of Vietnam, away from the cause of communism.

The Big Picture, scheduled for KHVH-TV at 9 a.m. Sunday, is titled "Operation Montagnard."

Pacific Report, which will be broadcast Sunday at 2 p.m. on KTRG and at 6 p.m. on KNDI, will include interviews with several participants in Exercise Quick Release.

Cherished American Freedom Is Right of Privacy in Home

(Second in a series of ten award-winning editorials from the San Diego, Calif., Evening Tribune. Reprinted with permission).

Home is a sacred place to us, a place of refuge, of nourishment for body and soul, of growth and love—home.

This is our world within a world.

And just as we wish man's bigger sphere to be free and secure, so do we insist on the safety and sanctity of our individual homes.

The Founding Fathers, steeped in the belief of man's dignity and worth, and wary of jack-booted tyranny against his home and his person, sought safeguards for himself and for all Americans who were to come after them.

In Article IV of the Bill of Rights—the first 10 Amendments to the Constitution—they showed their concern in these words:

"The right of the people to be secure in their persons, houses, papers, and effects, against unreasonable searches and seizures, shall not be violated, and no warrants shall issue, but upon probable cause, supported by oath or affirmation, and particularly describing the place to be searched, and the persons or things to be seized."

This fundamental right of privacy in one's home is a cherished part of America's freedoms today because we can contrast it with the absence of such decent regard for the individual in other lands.

The abode may be humble, it may be stately, it may be bare, or crammed with elegance, or harbor dark secrets.

But the law-abiding citizen can retire at night, secure in the knowledge that his privacy will be respected; that he will not know the dread of the rap on the door; the unwarranted intrusion into the world of the free American family.

The freedom of our homes is closely allied with another right we hold dear: the right to move about freely at home and abroad.

We move freely in our cities and counties and between states, subject only to the regulations, which have been adopted freely for the safety and well-being of society.

The regulations on travel abroad are not denials of the right to move freely, but actually expressions of the government's concern for the individual's freedom when he is away from the homeland.

The withholding of passports to areas wherein an American's freedom and safety cannot be assured—such as Communist China—is for example.

We believe that a man was meant to be free—free to come and go at his will, so long as the exercise of this freedom does not infringe upon the freedom of another.

We believe a man should be free to wrap himself and his family in the intimacy of his home, and be guaranteed against unlawful prying and entry.

These are bulwarks of the American way of life. (AFPS)

Chaplain's Column

Recalling the days when I first had the opportunity to take a row-boat all by myself, I remembered with a smile how I pulled away from the dock under the scrutiny of my uncle with whom I was summering.

I remember also how I was out to prove myself a capable oarsman so that I might be granted the liberty of unlimited and unchaperoned use of the boat. I tried to pull evenly, but for some reason I was always a little stronger with one oar than the other. As a result the path was quite a zig-zag, and I remember what an awful time I had bringing the boat back to the dock.

Life is much like that. One oar in the boat of life is spiritual, the other material. Both oars have been provided by God, and if we pull evenly, we reach our destinations without crisscrossing all over.

However, if we emphasize one at the expense of the other, we may soon find ourselves well off the course. One of the great difficulties of our generation is that we have been pulling almost exclusively on the one oar—material. We are worried about security. We must concentrate on the accumulation of more and more for the sake of gathering more gadgets. We concentrate so hard on making a living, that we fail to realize that we are pulling with only one oar, and so we fail to reach our goal of making a life.

The call of the hour is not so much to pull with the spiritual oar exclusively for awhile (though this might keep us from getting dizzy), but rather to pull evenly; to recognize the needs of the whole man, and to fill them all and not just a part. Our bodies AND our souls were created by God and He made provision for both. God supplied the two oars of work and worship. We cannot pull on the one oar for one or two hours a week and the other for sixty or seventy. We must pull evenly and worship in our work and work in our worship. If the formula is followed we'll find that we are rowing along quite smoothly.

Second Brigade Troops Return From Pohakuloa

Units of the 2nd Bde returned to Schofield Barracks from the Big Island last week upon the completion of "Exercise High Top III" at Pohakuloa Training Area.

Approximately 2,500 men under the command of Col. Walter F. Winton Jr., brigade commander, started leaving Pohakuloa March 30, for General Lyman Field, near Hilo, and Kawaihae LST Landing, where they boarded planes and Navy LSTs for the trip to Schofield Barracks.

Some 1,500 men were airlifted to Hickam Field in planes of the 1502nd Air Transport Service.

The remainder travelled by sea with trucks, tanks, artillery and engineer equipment to Pearl Harbor's Waipio Point.

A Combined Arms Exercise with six rifle companies, supported by artillery and armor units as well as Anglico aircraft, was the main training exercise at PTA.

The exercise involved the use of aircraft, artillery and armor, in conjunction with rifle companies, to gain experience through fire power massing and inter-service coordination.

The units which participated in "High Top III" are HHC, 2nd Bde; 1st and 2nd Bns, 27th Inf.; 1st Bn, 8th Arty; Co. B, 65th Eng. Bn; Co. C, 725th Maint. Bn, and 2nd Platoon, 25th MP Co.

During the month long visit to the Big Island, the various companies also took part in pre-Army training tests as well as actual platoon training tests, using live fire.

Lightning News Salutes Navy 'West Wind' Force

LEFT: Some 6,000 men of the 25th Inf. Div. are participating with Amphibious Force Three, United States Pacific Fleet and the U. S. Navy in the joint exercise "West Wind" at Oahu, Hawaii. The Hawaii Fleet Amphibious Force has set aside its primary function as a salute to the Pacific Fleet Amphibious Force which has complete record of operations since 1942.)

Force was organized, the United States has never failed to win its objective in an amphibious operation.

The Fleet, which has maintained the Pacific's end of this unblemished amphibious record, will furnish almost 3,000 men and a total of 13 ships for participation in Exercise "West Wind."

"Our mission remains the same today as it was when we were organized in 1942: to project our national power across the sea and on hostile shores," VAdm. John

B. Colwell, Commander, Amphibious Forces, United States Pacific Fleet, said.

The commander of the Pacific Fleet describes his organization as "not one of radical changes."

"Whenever we have developed a faster or better way of landing troops, we have worked doggedly to perfect the technique," he added.

The recent introduction of two new ships has added significant strength to amphibious assault operations. The amphibious assault ship (LPH) and the amphibious transport docks (LPD) possess capabilities of embarking battle-ready Marines and helicopters in areas beyond assault beachheads.

The Pacific Fleet has three of the LPHs and one LPD, but neither of the new ships will be in use in "West Wind."

The ships will, however, enable the Navy and Marine Corps to perfect a new landing technique for amphibious assault called "vertical envelopment."

That technique involves the flying of battle-ready troops and their equipment from the ships to areas beyond the landing beaches. The troops are then ready to strike the enemy's rear areas, cut off supplies to the forces resisting the landing and drive back toward the beach to destroy the enemy's capacity to fight.

The vertical envelopment technique does not, however, eliminate the need to transport great numbers of troops and heavy equipment ashore in landing craft.

During World War II, the Pacific Fleet Amphibious Force successfully landed soldiers and Marines in 50 amphibious assaults. The largest amphibious operation of World War II, the assault on Okinawa in 1945, employed nearly 1,400 ships.

The fleet's landing at Inchon, carried out by Naval forces under the command of the late General Douglas A. MacArthur in September, 1950, was instrumental in turning the tide in favor of United Nations forces and saving the Republic of Korea from falling into Communist hands.

Today's fleet includes 72 ships and 23,000 officers and men. The headquarters is at Naval Amphibious Base, Coronado, Calif., but Admiral Colwell and his staff are prepared to embark aboard their amphibious force flagship and operate at sea.

Ships are organized into four squadrons, classified as attack transports (APA), attack cargo ships (AKA), dock landing ships (LSD) and high speed transports (APD).

The fleet also contains Tactical Air Control squadrons to direct air strikes and Operations Support Groups which include Underwater Demolition Teams and Naval Beach Group units and make up a specialized arm of the amphibious force which helps to sustain the amphibious assault.

Since the end of World War II, 22 separate landings have been made by the various Navy amphibious forces in support of national policies or at the request of foreign governments.

FROGMEN - Navy frogmen from an underwater demolition unit set demolition charges on a "hedgehog," a beach obstacle placed by the enemy to block entry to certain sections of the beach and to channel landings into areas which are heavily covered by pre-registered supporting arms. The highly trained and skilled frogmen also perform beach reconnaissance, mine field clearance, explosive ordnance disposal, inland demolition raids, salvage and sneak attacks.

FLAGSHIP - The USS George P. Clymer (APA 27), flagship of Commander, Amphibious Squadron Three, prepares to load her circling LCVPs with assault troops. APAs (attack transports) such as the Clymer, carry the bulk of the troops for any amphibious operation.

CG's Welcome

On behalf of the officers and men of the 25th Infantry Division I extend a most cordial greeting to the officers and men of the Amphibious Squadron Three and other naval units participating in Exercise "West Wind." The 25th Infantry Division, which looks back to World War II and the superb support it received from naval amphibious forces, is delighted to train with such an outstanding organization in Hawaii. "West Wind" is an exercise which will further increase the readiness of the 25th Tropic Lightning Division to strike anywhere, anytime, in the area of the Pacific Command. The Division is looking forward to the excellent joint training to be provided by this exercise. Members of the Tropic Lightning Division hope that the naval personnel will enjoy their stay on Oahu and, where possible, will visit Schofield Barracks and the 25th Infantry Division. I am convinced that "West Wind" will be a very successful exercise in every respect.

Army placed third with 30 points behind the Hawaii Marines (54) and the Spikesters (39) at the Hawaiian AAU Invi-

Four Hawaiian AAU records and three AAU Invitational Meet marks fell by the wayside during the meet and the trials held last Thursday.

Highlight of the meet was

C. K. Yang, world decathlon champion who won the pole vault, 120-yard high hurdles and the javelin event.

Occidental College's Steve Haas topped the 880-yard event in 1:53.2.

New Record

Army's relay team, Leo Dozier, Ed Bush, Ray Justice and Art Welch, won the 440-yard relay in a record-breaking time of 43.3, clipping five-tenths of a second off the mark set by the Air Force last year.

Ed Bush had little trouble in winning the triple jump, equaling his 46-11 $\frac{1}{4}$  set in the trials, and the broad jump, with a jump of 22-2 $\frac{1}{2}$  feet.

Army's Art Welch placed second to Yang in the 120-yard high hurdles and anchored the record-breaking relay unit.

Dozier picked up the silver medal in the century to Marines' Les Deckard. Justice placed fourth in this event.

Al Kennedy took second in the 440-yard dash to Air Force quarter-miler Harold Emery.

Ray Lane placed fourth in the 440 intermediate hurdles.

Well Pleased

Track Coach Ralph Vanderbeek reported he was generally pleased with the team's progress in its attempt to wrest the 1964 Hawaiian Armed Services (HASAC) Track and Field Championships April 23-24 at Kaneohe. The team will be participating in the UH Invitational tomorrow and at Maui April 18.

State AAU Mark

Ed Bush, Trp B, 4th Cav., established a new Hawaiian AAU mark in the Hop, Step and Jump (triple jump) at the trials for the Hawaiian AAU Invitational.

The new standard of 46-11 $\frac{1}{4}$  broke the record of 45-8 $\frac{3}{8}$  set in 1963 by Tom Hayden, Armed Services.

Higgins Cops Tennis Crown

Pfc William Higgins, Hq. Co., 1/35th, captured the Ala Moana Singles Tennis Championship last Sunday by defeating Dr. Walter Jensen 6-3, 6-1, 7-5.

It was the second title this year for the former nationally ranked Higgins. He won the Oahu Amateur crown earlier.

Army Rangers Dump 'Flyers' 8-4

Army scored four first inning runs before a man was retired, then went on to an 8-4 victory over the Hickam Flyers in a non-league baseball game April 1 at Redlander Field.

The victory gave Army a pre-season record of 2-0 while leveling the Flyers' record at 3-3. Hickam had previously split two games with SubPac, clipped Naval Air-Pearl Harbor twice and lost to the defending champion Marines, 5-4.

Army's big first began when Hickam starter and loser Willie Wilson walked Ed McGowan. McKinley Simon promptly lined a run-scoring double past the left fielder and Willie Martin sent him to third with a sharp single to left.

Tom Glover then bounced a single over the third baseman's head and Simon trotted home from third while Martin streaked all the way in from first.

Glover came around with Army's fourth run when Xavier Guedea bombed a three-bagger into right-center. He was stranded there, however, as the next three batters popped up.

Shark Swimmers Set New Marks

Two members of the Schofield Sharks Swim Club broke 1963 Hawaiian AAU age group records in the Hickam Invitational Saturday.

Peter Frauenheim swam the 50-meter backstroke for boys 10 and under in 39.5, breaking the record (39.6) he had set March 14, while Elizabeth Hodge bettered the recognized Hawaiian record in the 50-meter breaststroke for girls 10 and under for the second time with a 45.2. She swam the distance in 44.8 on March 14.

Frauenheim also took the 50-meter freestyle for boys 10 and under in 34.5, while Billy Coleman won the 100-meter butterfly for boys 13 and 14 in 1:15.0.

The Sharks' A team, composed of Frauenheim, Jerry Aboe, Mike King and David Pardy, annexed the 200-meter freestyle relay for boys 10 and under in 2:37.1.

Bobbie Roose, previously unclassified in the 50-meter breaststroke for girls 11 and 12, classified Saturday when she finished third in 44.8.

Phil Moore hurled the first six innings in impressive fashion, limiting the Flyers to four hits and one earned run while striking out six and issuing only one walk. He finished his stint by fanning five of the last six batters he faced.

victory, yielding no runs and one single in each of the final three frames. Two of the safeties were of the infield variety. He fanned one and walked one.

Army batters were sharp, too, blasting 11 hits to all parts of Redlander Field. Simon, Martin, Guedea and Roosevelt Collins each collected two hits. Martin retired after the fourth with a perfect day—two singles and a walk in three at-bats.

Only defensively did the Army representatives fail to live up to pre-season expectations. They committed five errors, four of which were responsible for three unearned runs.

Third baseman Bill Devine and shortstop Willie Martin were the chief offenders with two bobbles each.

Army Bows To Hickam 2-1

Fumblitis hit the Army baseball team for the second time in its last three games Friday, and the Hickam Falcons took advantage of it for a 2-1 pre-season victory at Hickam.

The Rangers, whose defense is supposed to be one of their strong points, committed four errors—two of them came in the ninth when the Falcons pushed across the winning run without benefit of a base hit.

The setback evened the Rangers' record at 2-2. They have split two games against both SubPac and Hickam.

Bullpen ace Clyde Cox was charged with the loss in relief of Wayne Gassaway — which proves only that won-lost records don't mean much.

He pitched three innings of one hit ball, striking out one and walking none.

Hickam's winning "rally" started when centerfielder Whitey Bowman drove a hot one down to third which was gloved nicely by Bill Woolford, but then thrown slightly low and away and dropped by first baseman Xavier Guedea. Bowman was sacrificed to second, moved to third on a wild pitch, then scored when Woolford fumbled Don Martinnelli's ground ball.

Starting pitcher Wayne Gassaway, Army's ace right-hander, was unusually wild but limited the Falcons to three singles and one unearned run in six innings.

Due to the death of Gen. Douglas A. MacArthur, the Hawaiian Armed Services Baseball League will open tomorrow, Saturday, instead of tonight as previously scheduled.

Meet Your Rangers...

John Casprowitz, 1/35th, is starting his second season behind the plate for the Army Rangers—and no one will be disappointed if he simply duplicates his 1963 performance.

Last year he hit a healthy .294, clouted a league-leading total of 10 home runs and was named to the Inter-Service All-Star Team.

This year, he batted .414 and cracked two round-trippers to lead the Division League in both departments and was named Most Valuable Player.

Casprowitz, who calls Los Angeles home, played professionally before joining the Army in late 1957, finishing the '57 campaign with Visalia, a Class "C" team.

His goal this year is "to be in the lineup on opening day."

Rangers Drop 5-1 To SubPac

Behind the six-hit pitching of Jack Wombolt and Pete Kish, the SubPac Raiders evened their pre-season score with Army, 5-1 Thursday at Redlander Field. It was Army's first loss against a pair of wins. The locals had previously downed the Raiders, 6-5.

Kish was the most impressive mound performer of the game, hurling no-hit ball through the final three innings and striking out the side in the seventh. Wombolt allowed one unearned run on six hits to pick up the win. He fanned eight and walked only one.

Ted Hendry and Harry Davis shared the mound duties for Army and yielded ten hits but only three earned runs.

Davis was touched for three singles and two runs (one unearned) in the sixth, but gave up only two safeties through the final three innings. He struck out four and walked three.

Army played without its two 1963 Inter-Service All-Stars—shortstop Willie Martin and catcher John Casprowitz.

Army Rangers Shoot For Interservice Crown; Club Well-heeled in Pitching, Stick and Depth

Depth is the main quality which leads the 1964 Army baseball team's manager W. M. "Poi" Burgess, to say, "We are vastly improved over last year and should be in the thick of the battle all season. Whether or not we win the Inter-Service Baseball Championship depends on how much the other teams have improved."

Army, which is composed entirely of men from the 25th Division, opens the new season on April 12 when it meets Hickam at Hickam Field at 2 p.m.

Last year Army finished third in the overall standings with a 24-24 but wound up second in the final half with a 15-9 tally.

Burgess says that he will carry 30 men in 1964, with the maximum 25 suiting up for each game and the remaining five working out daily. "This way," he says, "we should have 25 healthy players at each game."

"Injuries won't hurt us as much as they did last year. With few exceptions, we have two or more men of equal or near equal ability at each position."

Burgess has three catchers, eight front line pitchers and four more waiting in the wings, eight infielders and seven outfielders.

Behind the plate most of the time will be John Casprowitz, who was named to last year's Inter-Service All-Star Team as a result of a .294 batting average and a league-leading total of 10 homeruns. Backing him up will be Les Elsbree and Ed Huntsberger.

Capable Pitching

"I think I have six capable starting pitchers right now," Burgess said, "four right-handers and a couple of southpaws. I have a left-handed and right-handed relief pitcher and four others who have a great chance to move into the "big eight" before the end of the season."

His right-handed starters are Wayne Gassaway, Harry Davis, Phil Moore and Ed Hunter. Shelton Johnson and Ted Hendry are his southpaw starters and Harold Brooks and Clyde Cox his bullpen aces. The "others" are William Enos, Gerald Brooks, Benny Horton and Dave Mertig.

Gassaway, regarded as the team's number one flinger, was ~~bothered by a bad arm over half~~ of last season but still compiled a fine 3.30 earned run average.

Evidence that his arm is well-healed is offered in the form of an 0.55 Division League ERA.

Infield Set

The infield is fairly well set, with Xavier Guedea expected to open the season at first, Ed McGowan at second, Bill Devine at third and 1963 Inter-Service All-Star Willie Martin at short.

Waiting in the wings are Horace Rogers, Mel Murakami, Barclay Fisher, and Bill Woolford.

Rogers, a newcomer who played for the Salem Rebels in the Appalachian League in 1963, is regarded as the best bet to crack the starting lineup. He is currently hampered by a bad wrist.

Tom Glover, who made the Division All-Star squad at third base, is a definite outfield starter.

"The other two positions are up for grabs," Burgess says.

Candidates are Rosevelt Collins, McKinley Simon, Kennis Davis, Ezra Nelson, James Kennedy and Tom Linko.

"The two that show me the most between now and April 10 are the two who will start," Burgess adds.

Last Title in '54

Army will be shooting for its first Inter-Service baseball championship since 1954. It was not in the league from 1957 through 1960.

Burgess thinks that playing 23 games in immense Redlander Field (337 to right field, 390 to center and 340 to left) will prove an advantage to Army.

"I believe pitching, defense and speed will be our strong points, and this type of team should do well here," he said.

25th Division Soldiers Learn Techniques Of Waterproofing

Soldiers of the 25th Inf. Div. who will be landing on Papohaku Beach at Molokai next Wednesday to start Exercise "West Wind" have been getting some special surf training on the beaches at Makua.

Under the supervision of members of the Marine Corps Landing Force Training Unit from the Naval Amphibious Base, Coronado, Calif., "Tropic Lightning" Division drivers have been waterproofing their vehicles, then driving them from Schofield Barracks to Makua to acquaint themselves with driving in surf they might expect to find in coming down the ramp of a landing ship.

The men had earlier trained in waterproofing vehicles by learning, under Marine Corps instructors, to cover exposed parts of the engines with waterproof compound and to fasten "snorkels" to exhausts.

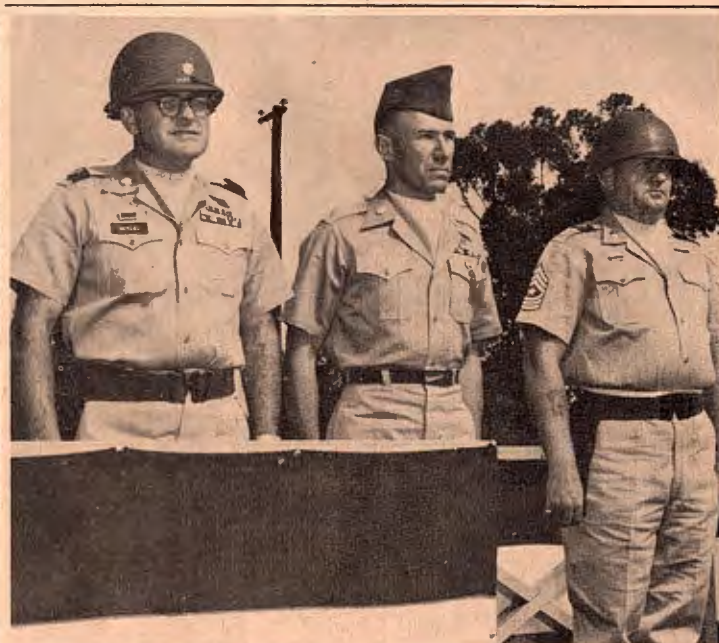

In training at the beach they first deflated tires, then drove the jeeps and trucks through sand several feet into the water, then drove through the surf parallel to the beach before turning again and driving back into the sand.

Earlier, all men who will participate in the assault from Naval vessels, some 4000 troops of the Division's 1st Bde, had received training in ascending and descending cargo nets while carrying full combat gear and wearing life jackets.

The assault force, commanded by Col. Claude D. Barton, will move from Oahu to Papohaku Beach in 13 Navy Transports and large landing ships of Amphibious Squadron Three, commanded by Capt. J. D. Linehan, USN.

They will be opposed on the beach and during a subsequent four-day counterinsurgency operation by about 2000 men of the Division's 3rd Bde, commanded by Col. James L. Erickson. This force will comprise the "friendly" populace of "Bahka" infiltrated with guerrillas.

CHANGE OF COMMAND - Lt. Col. Guy K. Troy (c) replaced Lt. Col. Wilson N. Boyles as CO, 4th Cav., at a mounted review. SMaj. Willie G. Anderson is 4th Cav. sergeant major.

★ Red Cross Campaign

it was impossible to contact them all during the original month-long campaign.

Members of some Division units were at Pohakuloa Training Area, while others were at Molokai preparing for Exercise "West Wind." Consequently, Mr. Holcomb said, Division officials felt that the number of persons contacted was not representative of the strength of the Division.

The April pay day will fall within the extended dates of the campaign, and Red Cross solicitors expect to be able to contact the remainder of the Division members before the drive closes.

Mr. Holcomb has asked that keymen who have not yet turned in their kits, hold the materials until after the April pay day drive. Keymen having contributions ready to turn in, however, should bring the money to the Red Cross Field Director, he said.

New keyman kits will be issued to those campaign leaders who have already returned theirs to the Red Cross office.

★ Entertainment

HHC, 2/35th, Marshall Ferguson, Co. B, 1/35th and Vito Munoz, HHR, 21st Arty.

2nd Lt. Victor Zuffoletti, USAG, Ft. Shafter, was also selected for the Okinawa finals for his saxophone rendition of "What Kind of Fool Am I" in the instrumental soloist category.

Judges for the competition were Eddie Sherman, Mrs. Eddie Sherman, Jack Cione, Maria Korda and Phil Mayer.

Awards were presented by Brig. Gen. George I. Forsythe, ADC/M, 25th Division.

★ Ships

LCdr. R. T. Ackely. "West Wind" began yesterday on the island of Molokai and will continue through April 24. It involves 13 San Diego and Pearl Harbor based ships, some 6,000 troops of the 1st and 3rd Brigades and Support Command of the 25th Inf. Div., and elements of the First Marine Brigade stationed at Kaneohe.

Approximately 4,000 men will land by helicopters and Navy assault craft at Papohaku Beach, Molokai, on D-Day Wednesday. After the landing, the Army troops will participate in counter-insurgency and anti-guerrilla operations through April 19. The exercise will conclude on April 24 with the offloading of troops at Pearl Harbor.

the nation and indeed the world have lost in General Douglas MacArthur's passing a great leader, statesman and diplomat. The memory of his illustrious career dedicated to God and country will serve as an inspiration to future generations of young men for many years to come."

General Boyle said, "The death of General of the Army Douglas A. MacArthur is keenly felt by the 25th Inf. Div. which served under his command in World War II and in the Korean War. On behalf of the Division, and of the men still in the Division who fought under General MacArthur's leadership in war and were privileged to serve under him in peace, I can only say that his loss will be mourned by future generations of soldiers as it is mourned today."

Service Members Will Benefit From Travel Pay Law

Active duty and former members of the Armed Forces will benefit from a new law which opens the way for filing travel claims.

Public Law 88-238 is the basis for authority to pay claims for travel performed on a previous change of station order. Under this law, service personnel whose orders were canceled or modified while they were on leave or enroute to a new station may be reimbursed.

Formerly, a member was entitled only to travel reimbursement from his old duty station to the new station even though he may have traveled hundreds of miles in the wrong direction, unaware of a change.

The period covered extends from October 1, 1949, to December 23, 1963, date of the legislation. Deadline for filing is December 22, 1964.

Details and assistance can be obtained from the Finance Office or Personnel Office. (ANF)

Federal and State Tax Time Near, Div. SJA Warns

With the April 15 deadline for filing federal income tax returns drawing near, Lt. Col. David T. Bryant, 25th Inf. Div. SJA, has reminded military personnel that many states enforce the same deadline for collection of state income taxes.

Although each soldier was always obligated to pay state income tax if his home state collected such a tax, the federal government this year began furnishing copies of each soldier's W-2 forms to his state of legal residence.

Since the federal government is furnishing the W-2 copies to the states, individual states will be able to do a thorough job of investigating those persons who neglect to file state returns.

However, each state has its own peculiar laws. Some have either total or partial exemptions for military pay and a recent California decision held that a member of the regular Air Force who had been absent from California for 13 years was not obligated to pay California income tax.

States which have a deadline for filing income tax other than April 15 include Arkansas, May 15; Delaware, April 30; Hawaii, April 20; Iowa, April 30; Louisiana, May 15; Mississippi, April 14; New Hampshire, May 1 and Virginia, May 1.

The Division SJA section has a collection of the various state income tax laws, including a list of the states which do require the filing of returns.

★ USARPAC

Civilians must be U. S. citizens over 16 years old to enter the competition.

Winners in the various matches will receive trophies in a ceremony at Schofield April 21.

Picnic Supply Center Opens

A delicatessen and picnic supply center for all members of the Armed Forces is the newest shopping facility in the Schofield Barracks community.

The store which is operated by the Schofield Barracks NCO Open Mess, is located in the opposite end of the building which houses the NCO Package Store.

It will operate Monday through Friday each week from 3 p.m. to 8 p.m., Saturdays from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. and Sundays and holidays from 8 a.m. to 10 p.m.

DMU's individual winners in the weekend match included Sergeant Lum Lung, who took the top spot in the center fire pistol national match course, .45 cal. slow fire, .45 cal. timed fire and the .45 cal. aggregate matches, MSgt. Gerald Jones, who won the .22 cal. national match course, and Sp4 Robert Cooke, who took first place in the .22 cal. rapid fire pistol match.
